

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.—A person named John Q. Adams, who was some time engaged in distributing the American Telegraph in this city, is no longer so employed. Our subscribers are requested not to settle any accounts with him, but with Mr. R. W. Gooch, our present agent.

THE DEPARTMENTS AT WASHINGTON.—We shall to-morrow lay before our readers our views respecting the PATRONAGE of the Federal Government, and we would bespeak the public attention to the remarks we have to present. The abridgment of the rewarding power of the Executive is essential to the welfare and permanency of the country. It has led to corruption, and will lead to centralization, if not checked in its growth and the unjust manner in which it is exercised.

CONGRESS TO-DAY.—SENATE.—Messrs. RUSK, BUTLER, RHETT, DOWNS, BORLAND and BELL appeared to-day.

Mr. UNDERWOOD presented petitions praying that no chaplains be employed in the public service.

On motion of Mr. BRIGHT, the rules were suspended; and he then moved that the committee of the last session be re-appointed for this.

Mr. BRIGHT gave notice that he would move to amend the rules, so as to have the officers of the Senate elected on next Monday.

A large number of bills were introduced. Mr. HALE gave notice of a resolution authorizing the President to open a correspondence with the President of France, with a view to effect the liberation of Abd El Kader.

Mr. SEWARD introduced a joint resolution extending a welcome, &c., to Kossuth.

Mr. SHIELDS gave notice of an amendment providing for his introduction to the Senate by three Senators.

Mr. CLEMENS introduced a joint resolution authorizing the President to confer the rank of Lieut. General by brevet.

Mr. FOOT'S resolution, declaring the Compromise acts a definitive settlement of the slavery question, was taken up. He addressed the Senate in support of it, as eminently proper and expedient.

Mr. BUTLER denounced the resolution as unnecessary and unwise.

Mr. FOOT, reviewing the whole subject.

The remarks of both Senators were emphatic, and rather severe.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—We are informed, upon what we regard as reliable authority, that the new doorkeeper of the House, Mr. McKnew, has removed, or notified of his intention to remove, on the first of January, the following of his subordinate officers: Patrick H. Brooks, Charles H. Upton, Alexander Hay, S. S. Cotts, John T. Clements, T. D. Lerner, L. Bess, John King, and Baldwin.

Mr. McKnew informs those dismissed, that no fault is found with them respecting the manner in which they have discharged their duties heretofore; but that they are removed solely because they are Whigs, and their places are demanded by the Democratic members for their friends.

Of the old officers, Charles W. Stewart, Wm. T. Stewart, McConnell, and Raub, (Democrats,) and James J. Randolph and Joseph D. Ward, (Whigs,) are retained in service.

Among the new appointments, we learn, are Messrs. Samuel Phillips, Thomas J. Galt, Hootce, and Lamborn, of this city; McKnew, of Maryland; Allen, of New York; Hacker, of Illinois; and Sanborn, of Maine. The others are all from the States, but their names we have not yet learned. The new appointments for the present are all made.

A change in the pages has also been made, several being removed.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE BY A YOUNG LADY.—About 11 o'clock on Friday morning last, as we learn from the New York Herald, a young female of highly respectable appearance, while crossing to Williamsburg on the steamboat California, plying from the foot of Houston street, when the boat was in the middle of the river, jumped overboard with the attempt to commit suicide. The tide was running out at a very rapid rate, and in a moment of time bore her far out of the reach of those in the boat, who seemed much excited and were exceedingly anxious to rescue her. Her dress bore her up and kept her upon the surface of the water, and she floated half a mile down the river, when two boatmen, belonging to a sloop anchored in the stream, put after her in a small boat and soon had the satisfaction of rescuing her from a watery grave, amidst the applause of thousands of spectators who witnessed the proceeding from the shores and from vessels in the vicinity. She was placed on board one of the Grand street ferry-boats and conveyed to Williamsburg, where she was furnished with dry clothing, and received necessary medical attendance at the hands of Dr. Holmes, who was one of the spectators who witnessed the affair. She is a resident of New York city, but refused to give her name or place of residence; neither would she disclose the cause which led her to make the rash attempt upon her life.

NEW CAPITOL OF TENNESSEE.—It is said this will be one of the most magnificent buildings of the kind in the United States. It is built of polished limestone rock, upon an elevated position, giving a most extensive view of the surrounding country. It can be got ready for the next session of the Legislature in 1853. To do so, however, an appropriation of $200,000 is asked for from the present Legislature. The force employed is two hundred and forty men. In its construction $344,382 have been already expended.

A year's subscription to the Philadelphia City Item would make a beautiful present to any one. Think of this, good folks.

Thus says the Item, and thus say we. Let any gentleman prepay a year's subscription and postage, and cause that paper to be sent to his beloved, and our word for it, her appreciation of his good taste will greatly elevate him in her esteem. Try it!

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE.—Mr. Webster, Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Cass, Mr. Benton, and Mr. Van Buren were all born in the year 1782.

LOLA MONTES; COUNTESS OF LANDSELY.—

This woman arrived in the Humboldt, as we have already stated, accompanied by her agent, Mr. Edward Willis, brother of N. P. Willis, and several servants. The editors of the New York Tribune say that she stated in conversation with them that many had been said of her by the American press, yet she is not the woman she is represented to be; if she were, her admirers, she believes, would be still more numerous! She has been very lively during the whole passage, and does not appear to be very favorable to Kossuth, whom she thinks an austere and distant man. Lola, the Tribune adds, is not a masculine woman, but rather slim in her structure; she has a face of great beauty, and a pair of black Spanish eyes, which flash fire when she is speaking, and make her, with the sparkling wit of her conversation, a great favorite in company. She has black hair, which curls in ringlets by the sides of her face, and her nose is of a pure Grecian cast, while her cheek bones are high, and give a Moorish appearance to her face. She expresses herself as fearful that she will not be properly considered in New York, but hopes that a discriminating public will judge of her after having seen her, and not before!

This woman doubtless possesses fascinations of a rare character, and few men perhaps can regard her without emotions of pity; but we cannot believe that the good and honest men and women of this republic will be again deemed it compatible with their own fame and dignity to flatter, pamper and enrich the superannuated mistress of a European royal debauchee!

Kossuth was in her eyes austere and distant. To his honor be it spoken! The husband who is worthy of an honorable wife should not appear otherwise. But how much less than contemptible is he who could stoop from the estate of his manhood to become the companion, agent and lackey of such a woman!

Perhaps the lovers of good dancing will think us over-righteous on this theme. Well, the country is free, and every one has the privilege of gratifying his own tastes, and of encouraging such exemplars as he may wish his wife and daughters to imitate!

THE TREASON TRIALS.

Attorney General Brent, of Maryland, commenced his argument to the jury on Saturday, and the reports represent it as the argument of the occasion. He began by saying that if a stranger had entered the court-room, unacquainted with the facts of the case, he would have supposed that the State of Maryland was on trial, and Castner Hanway was there for his exaltation and glorification. But how does Hanway really stand before the court and country? He is arraigned for the heinous crime of treason. The State of Maryland sent no one before a grand jury to induce them to find a true bill. That body acted under their consciences and the constituted authorities of Pennsylvania. He explained how he came to appear in the case, and said that it was necessary for the peace and quiet of the country that the defence should be a fair one, and that this should be known through a representative of the South. He depicted the present condition of the South, and said if the taint of slavery was upon her, it was a taint which had rested upon the whole original thirteen States. He explained why the South did not emancipate her slaves. He said the South had performed all the obligations imposed upon her by the Constitution, and he scouted the idea of the conscience of an American citizen being above the laws of the land. He was to resume this morning.

TEMPERANCE IN ALABAMA.—The Crystal Fountain, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, states that the authorities of that city have put the price of license at $1,000. A respectable tavern-keeper applied for license at $400, which was refused on two grounds—the first was because, by the votes in three or four cases in the city, they had evidence that public sentiment was against it; and the other was, that they have a University there, and the Excise Board say that their fellow-citizens "believe that if one cause more than any other has contributed to the large accession of students to the University this fall, it is that the fact has gone abroad that we have closed all our licensed retail establishments." In such a fact as the above there is a volume of instruction.

MISSISSIPPI SENATOR.—Mr. Harris, secession Whig, is said to be appointed United States Senator. The legislature meets in about three weeks to elect a Senator for the full term, and one for the unexpired term of Hon. Jefferson Davis.

THIS is a great day in the Old Dominion—the greatest in her history; for on this day the voice of the people is to be heard, irrespective of property qualification or other absurd restriction on the right of suffrage.

The Washington Telegraph commits a grave error in saying that Mr. Soule's card, in reference to Gen. Downs, was refused publication in the Delta, and appeared first in the Crescent. It was first published in the Delta.—N. O. Delta.

We know not how we were led into the error; but we regret it, and especially as we know the Delta to be not less remarkable for its fairness and candor than for the ability and agreeable sprightliness that have made it one of the most popular journals of the glorious "sunny South."

If politicians wish immortality, we advise them to pay proper attention to the press; as, without its aid, many would never reach the distinction at which all aim.—South Carolinian.

A Congress without a press and its reporters would prove but a dull concert. The court and bar are purified and enlightened by such agencies. The pulpit embraces them as essential adjuncts. The man of business cannot prosper without the press; and his prosperity can only be restricted by his restraining the use of the proper means. These are the ability to transact business and the adequate publication of the fact.

Mr. CLAY.—In a recent letter Horace Greeley says: "Mr. Clay's determination is fixed and unalterable, that no persuasions nor entreaties shall induce him to be again a candidate for the Presidency. He feels that his earthly career is near its close, and that whatever he has had power to do for the country is nearly accomplished."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A fearful accident occurred at about 8 o'clock this morning, between K and L and 10th and 11th streets, in this city. A number of men were at work digging earth from the side of a hill of about ten feet height, when suddenly the embankment gave way and fell upon them. Patrick Lynch, an unmarried man, 33 or 34 years old, was instantly killed. Thomas Burns, 40 years old, had both bones of the left forearm broken, and one or two ribs on the left side; his chest and back are also much bruised. His is a serious case. He was taken to the Infirmary, where everything possible is being done for him. J. B. McGill was somewhat injured, and James Noland slightly. An inquest was held over the body of the deceased, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.

THE GREAT DEFALCATION IN OHIO.—A letter from Newark, Ohio, dated December 3, says: "Every day develops evidences of the widespread disaster. A. J. Smith has gone, no one knows where. It is not supposed he has taken anything with him. His liabilities will amount to not less than $300,000. The active means of the town itself, destroyed by this affair, is not less than $100,000."

A REMARKABLE WELL.—An old rhyming legend says: "Mads till this day the story tell, That truth lies buried in the bottom of a well."

That may be, but as we do not like to go down there after it, let us hope that it lies at the bottom of what the Florida Whig tells us, according to which paper a well is now being excavated in Jackson county, Fla., which, in the number of strata already passed through, is nearly as notable as the one so famous near Genoa. The first twenty or thirty feet is composed of sandy soil common to that region. This succeeded for about an equal distance by a black, rich, vegetable loam. Beneath the loam is a deposit of trunks and branches of trees, in a semi-petrified state, and still farther down, at the depth of sixty-five feet, is struck a vein of metallic ore. A specimen of the ore is in possession of the editor of the Whig, who says that it is very pure, and has the appearance of silver, but the hardness of platinum.

HAZARD'S PLAN OF THE CITY HALL.

In perusing the letter of the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Clipper of the 5th instant, the following sentence arrested my attention: "One day this week, C. B. Cluskey, architect, gained a suit which he brought against the Corporation to recover compensation for modifying the original plan of the front of the City Hall. The amount awarded him is $335."

As it might be supposed by some on reading the above paragraph that Mr. Hazard's plan of the City Hall had been departed from in completing the south facade, I will state for the information of such persons as may desire to know the whole truth about this matter, that the original plan has been carried out in all its essential features—the modification submitted by C. B. Cluskey, esq., having been rejected by the building committee. I presume the award referred to was made on account of the trouble and expense that Mr. C. was subjected to by the unauthorized and unwarranted attempt of some one to have the original plan of our chaste and beautiful and much-admired City Hall altered, and not for any merit possessed by the proposed modification.

Murdoch, the popular American actor, played a magnificent engagement in St. Louis last week. The houses were crowded nightly, from pit to dome. He's on the high road to fame and fortune.—Phil. Sun.

When will he get there? Murdoch was "a promising young actor" in 1831, and we perceive he is still so called. Twenty years ought to help one out of his boyhood.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—For the convenience of everybody, these should be advertised in the Telegraph. Mr. Lloyd, on Pennsylvania avenue, near 15th street, has adopted this mode, and is busy selling all sorts of good things to mankind in general, and young folks in particular.

SET 'EM UP!—An Illinois paper announces the marriage of Edward C. Pinn to Mary Pinn.

There is some prospect that a bridge from Cincinnati to Covington will soon be built.

IN TOWN.—The man who pronounces Kossuth's name correctly.—Ech.

In what town? We have not had him here.

THE LOWER CLASSES.—Who are they? The toiling millions, the laboring man and woman, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer? Far from it. These are nature's nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor, in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature, whatever the fictitious distinction of society, fashionable or unfashionable, decree. It is not low, it is the highest duty, privilege, and pleasure for the great man and the whole-souled woman to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to be the architects of their own fortunes. Some may rank the classes we have alluded to as only relatively low, and in fact the middling classes. We insist they are absolutely the very highest. If there be a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated low, it is that class who spend without earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives without being anything in and of themselves.—Raleigh Spirit.

Among the sentences of the courts-martial which have been sitting at Berlin, there is one of ten blows with a stick, on a woman named Anna Bleichs, for inciting journeymen against their employers.

Among the most recent improvements are gutta percha pens, which are stated to be far more durable than goose quills, and more available than the metallic materials.

PRIMITIVE.—About the year 1684, the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed a resolution that "no member thereof should come to the house barefoot, or eat his bread and cheese on the steps."—Ech.

A lucrative business in Kossuth cockades of green, white and red ribbons, (the Magyar colors,) has sprung up in New York. They have not reached this city yet.—Phil. Sun.

Health, and avert all those NERVOUS DISEASES, over which the most profound medical skill has hitherto had no control. It is a grand restorer in building up a weak constitution, already worn down by disease and debilitated by other causes. Its invigorating properties act like a charm, and its beneficial effects are almost miraculous. The weak, the nervous, and those suffering with constant pains and uneasiness, are frequently cured by using a single bottle.

The Ladies cordially hope that in this way their almost exhausted treasury may be replenished, and thus enabled joyfully and thankfully to carry on the work in which they are and have been for years engaged, of adding to the comfort (by providing them with work and occupation) of every good, by every day, by every thing of what they have received to their less favored brethren.

Any contributions in fancy articles or refreshments will be gratefully received, and may be sent to Odd-Fellows' Hall, on Monday next, or to Mrs. Mills, Mrs. O. B. Brown, Mrs. Eckard, and Mrs. Chas. Fowler, Directresses of the Society.
